The term "image" denotes any resulting 2D or 3D representation in physical, electronic, or other format, that is obtained by all past, current, and future means of recording an image of any artifact, specimen, label, catalog and other material housed in the collections of the Natural History Museum of Utah (aka Utah Museum of Natural History, UMNH) (the "Collections"). In return for UMNH's permission to create images of its artifacts, specimens, labels, catalogs, or other material housed in the Collections, you agree to the following conditions.

Ownership
The copyright of all images derived from artifacts or specimens in UMNH's Collections are the property of UMNH, regardless of whether the images were generated on the museum's premises or externally, unless otherwise specified in a written agreement. You hereby assign (and further agree to assign) to UNMH all of your rights of copyright, in all images that you capture or create of the Collections, in all media, and any renewals, extensions, or revivals thereof.

Copy of Image(s)
Each user of the Collections is obliged to provide UMNH a copy of all images derived from the Collections.

Attribution
You agree to reference UMNH and the catalog number (e.g., "Courtesy of Natural History Museum of Utah, UMNH VP xxx") in any publication containing data derived from the Collections or other UMNH material and notify UMNH registrar prior to publication. A hard copy or an electronic file of each publication must be provided to UMNH.

Creative Commons License
UMNH will allow usage of images that you capture or create of the Collection for scholarly use under a creative commons license, CC BY-ND. https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nd/4.0/legalcode

With the creative commons license all the listed terms still apply. Please contact the registrar with any further questions. Other uses not covered in the creative commons license can be applied for using our Image Reproduction Request Form, found on our website, http://www.nhmu.utah.edu/collections/policies-forms.

☒ The use of images is limited to the undersigned, no distribution of images is allowed
