Drive south from Salt Lake City on I-15. Just past Provo, take the exit for Route 6 to Price. Salt Lake City to Price is about 120 miles.

Continue south through the town of Wellington. Proceed about another 8 miles until the road goes from four lanes to two and a sign indicates the turn for Route 123 to East Carbon and Sunnyside. I believe it is near milepost 256.

Drive east on Route 123 until arriving towards the center of East Carbon (about 9 miles). A sign indicates the turn for Route 124 to Columbia and Horse Canyon.

Drive south on Route 124 approximately 2.5 miles and a sign will indicate the turn for Horse Canyon. You will still be on Route 124 after making the turn.

Continue south for about another 7 miles. You will come to a one-lane cement bridge, the road turns to gravel and you will enter Horse Canyon Mine. You can't miss it—large WWII vintage brick buildings surrounded by chain link fencing.

FROM THE SOUTH:
Travel north on Route 6. At about milepost 267, a sign indicates the turn for Horse Canyon. Turn right (northeast) onto a poorly paved road. Drive about another 5 miles to a stop sign. Turn right (east) at the stop sign and drive about another mile to Horse Canyon Mine.
Drive about 1/2 mile past the mine to a fork in the road. Take the left road which is the Horse Canyon Road. Drive about 4 miles to the pass, and another 4 miles to the first locked gate. Vehicles can be parked to the east of the road along the fence line and overnight camping is allowed.
